

Balancing the benefits and harms of medicine use assesses the evidence

Australian Prescriber's Editorial Executive Committee assessing input from its Advisory Editorial Panel, readers, media, pharmaceutical companies, NPS activities and other sources

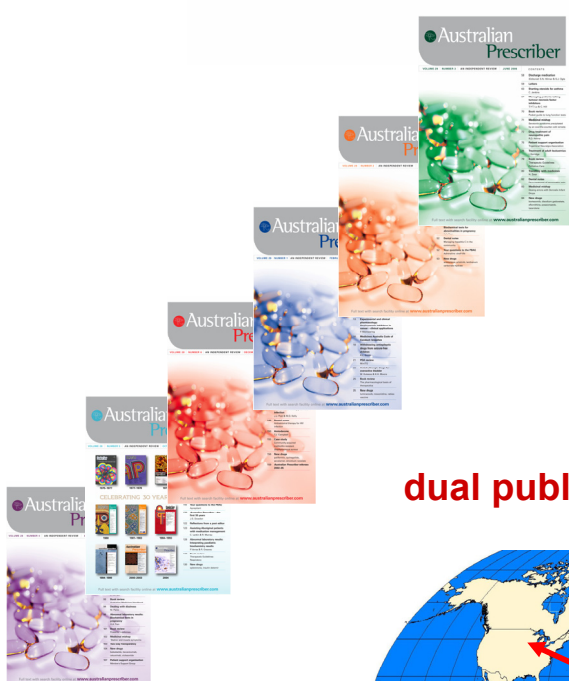

interprets the benefits and harms

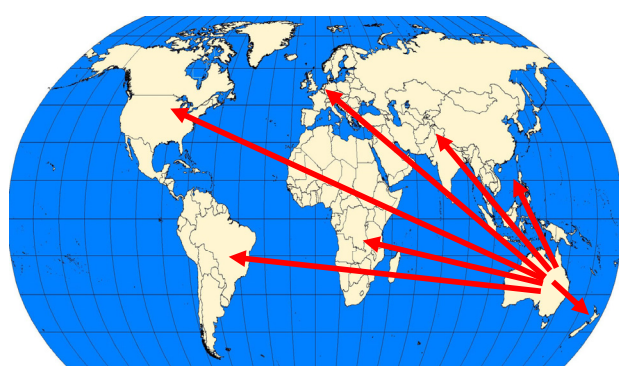

Australian Prescriber

communicates to its many readers dual publication – paper and online

Each month 100 000 pages are viewed on the website, 52 000 of which are from Australia

A 2006 website survey shows:

- ▶ 95% of respondents find the site 'a useful resource for independent information about drugs and therapeutics'
- ▶ 95% regard the information on the site as evidence-based

Australian distribution is over 51 000 copies per issue

Overseas distribution

