

Patient support organisation

Ménière's Support Group

(See 'Dealing with dizziness', page 94)

The Ménière's Support Group assists with providing community support for people who have Ménière's disease. It produces a quarterly magazine and holds meetings for members, their families and friends. Resources such as fact sheets, information packs and videos are available from the state offices, from the Ménière's Resource and Information Centre and via an online catalogue (www.menieres.org.au). Health professionals interested in learning more about Ménière's disease are encouraged to use these resources.

At present three state offices provide support and services to all states.
