

Water for Injections B Braun

Active ingredient(s): None

Consumer Medicine Information

This leaflet provides important information about using B. Braun Water for Injections.

You should also speak to your doctor or pharmacist if you would like further information or if you have any concerns or questions about using B. Braun Water for Injections.

Where to find information in this leaflet:

1. Why am I using B. Braun Water for Injections?
2. What should I know before I use B. Braun Water for Injections?
3. What if I am taking other medicines?
4. How do I use B. Braun Water for Injections?
5. What should I know while using B. Braun Water for Injections?
6. Are there any side effects?
7. Product details

1. Why am I using B. Braun Water for Injections?

B. Braun Water for Injections contains sterile water. B. Braun Water for Injections is used to dissolve or dilute other medicines when preparing water soluble injections.

2. What should I know before I use B. Braun Water for Injections?

Warnings

Your doctor or nurse will only use Water for Injections to dissolve or dilute other medicines that they will give you.

Before you are given Water for Injections

When you must not use it:

- Only to be used if solution is clear, colourless and the container and its closure or packaging are undamaged.
- Do not use Water for injections after the expiry date which is stated on the container and the outer carton after "EXP". The expiry date refers to the last day of the month.

Check with your doctor if you:

- have any other medical conditions
- take any medicines for any other condition

During treatment, you may be at risk of developing certain side effects. It is important you understand these risks and